COACHING PHILOSOPHY

We provide a player centric training program that emphasizes long-term player development with a heavy focus on fundamentals, strategy, and decision-making. We encourage players to think creatively, problem-solve, and develop responsibility within our team. Competition is a central element to player development. However, our team values performance rather than outcomes. Results are just one indicator of performance at this age. Winning is considered to be the result of application of good skills and good tactics during practices and games.
